

Work in Progress: A regional approach to an end of treatment summary for patients and their GPs

Grampians Integrated Cancer Service (GICS)

Improving access to high quality, integrated, patient-centred services close to home, through optimising cancer systems capability and performance and capitalising on big opportunities to improve the cancer system

Strategic intentions include

- Promote service integration
- Support development of optimal models of care

Three templates, no longer than two pages each, to improve communication between patients, their GPs and cancer specialists. Specialists are trialling the approach across the Grampians Region of Victoria

At Diagnosis

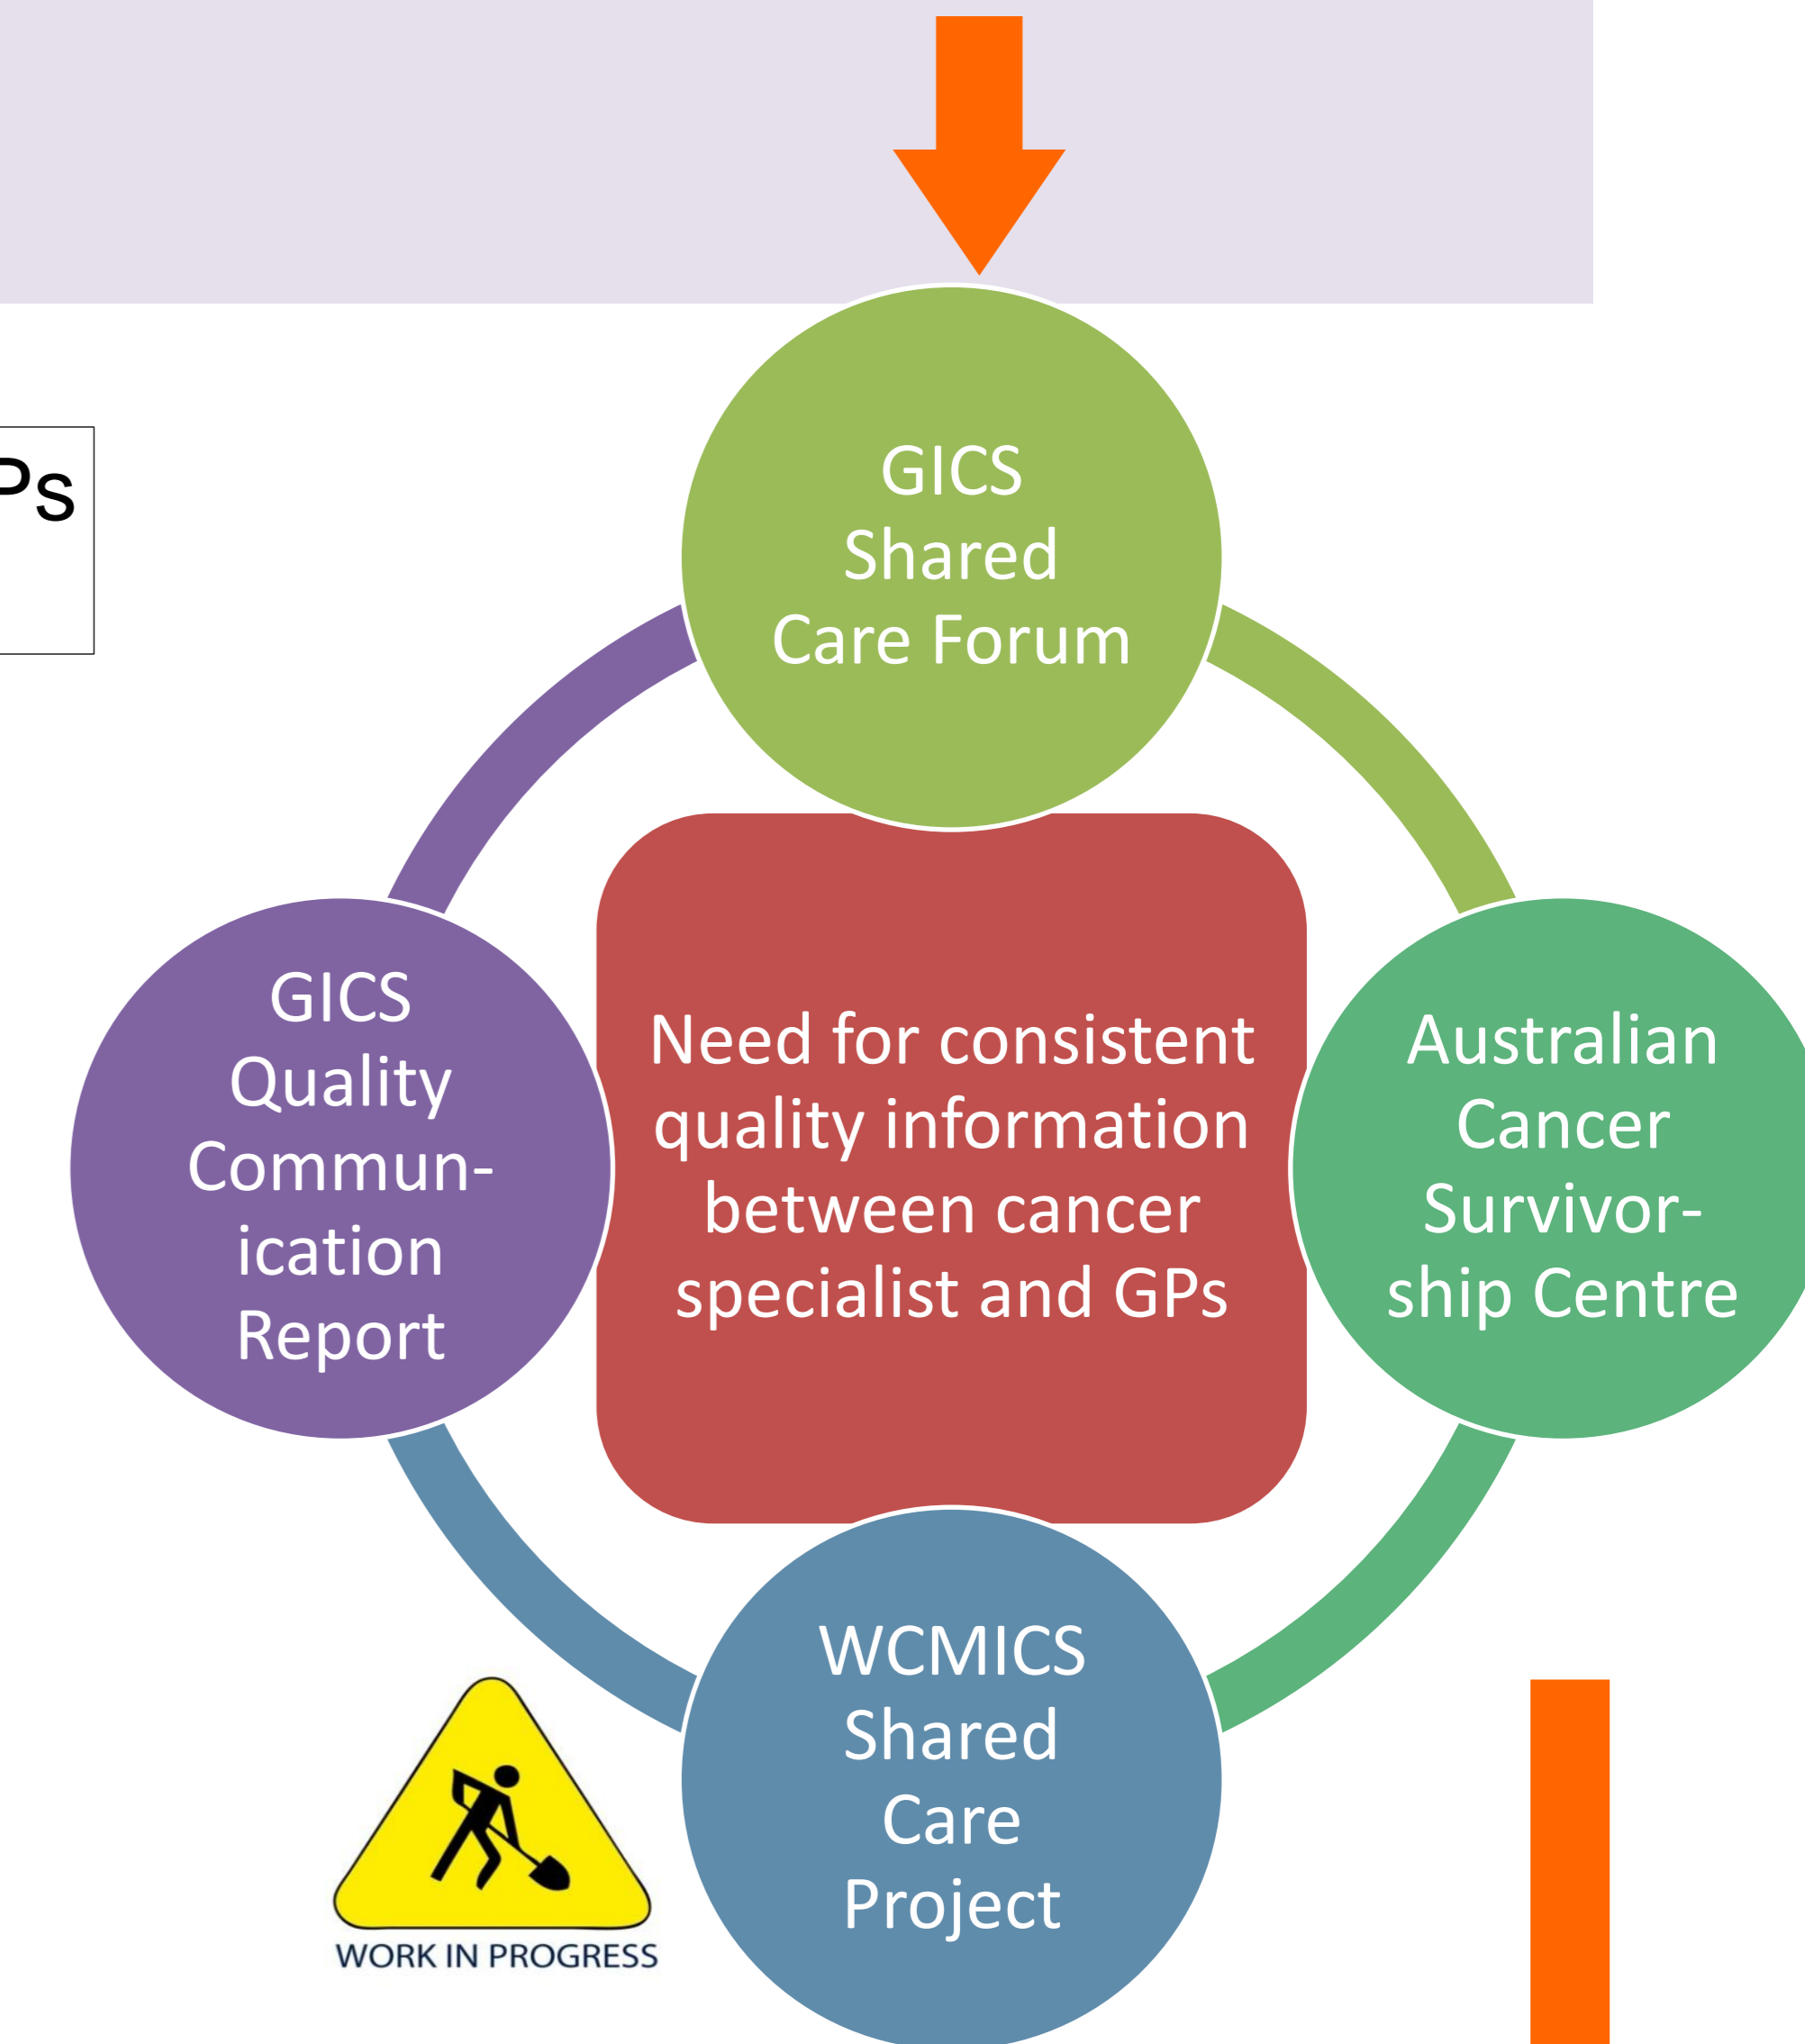

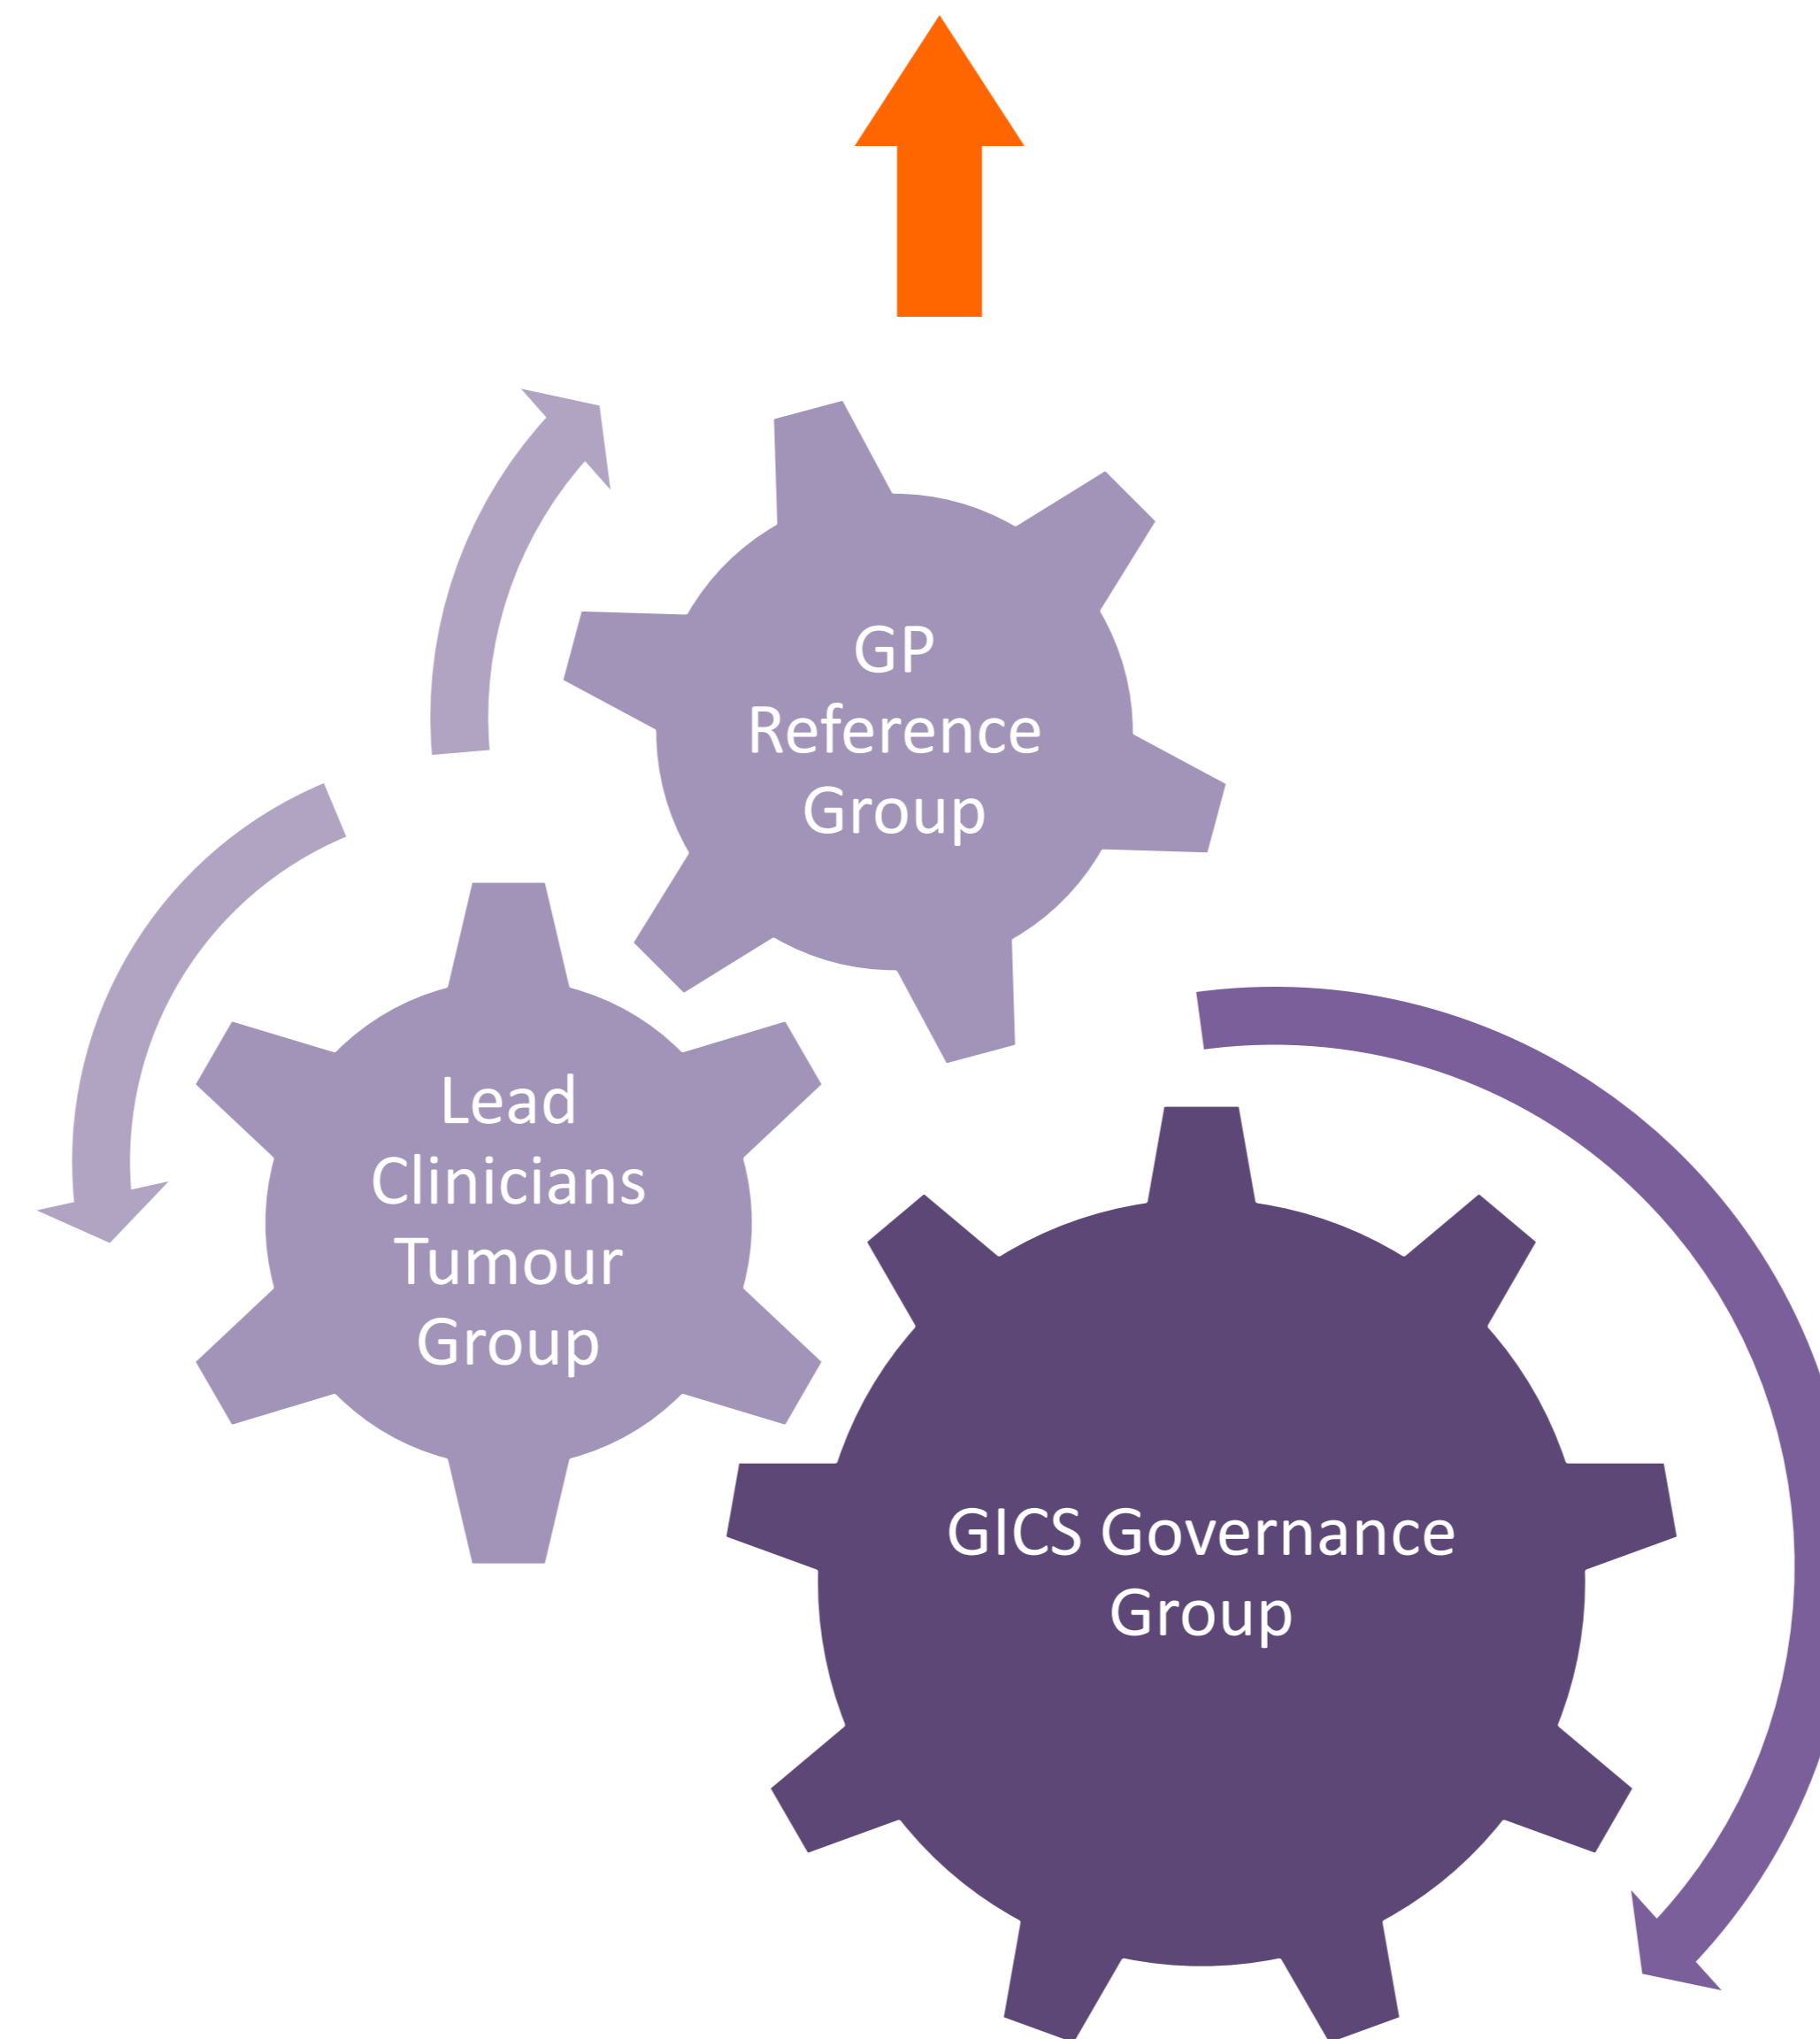

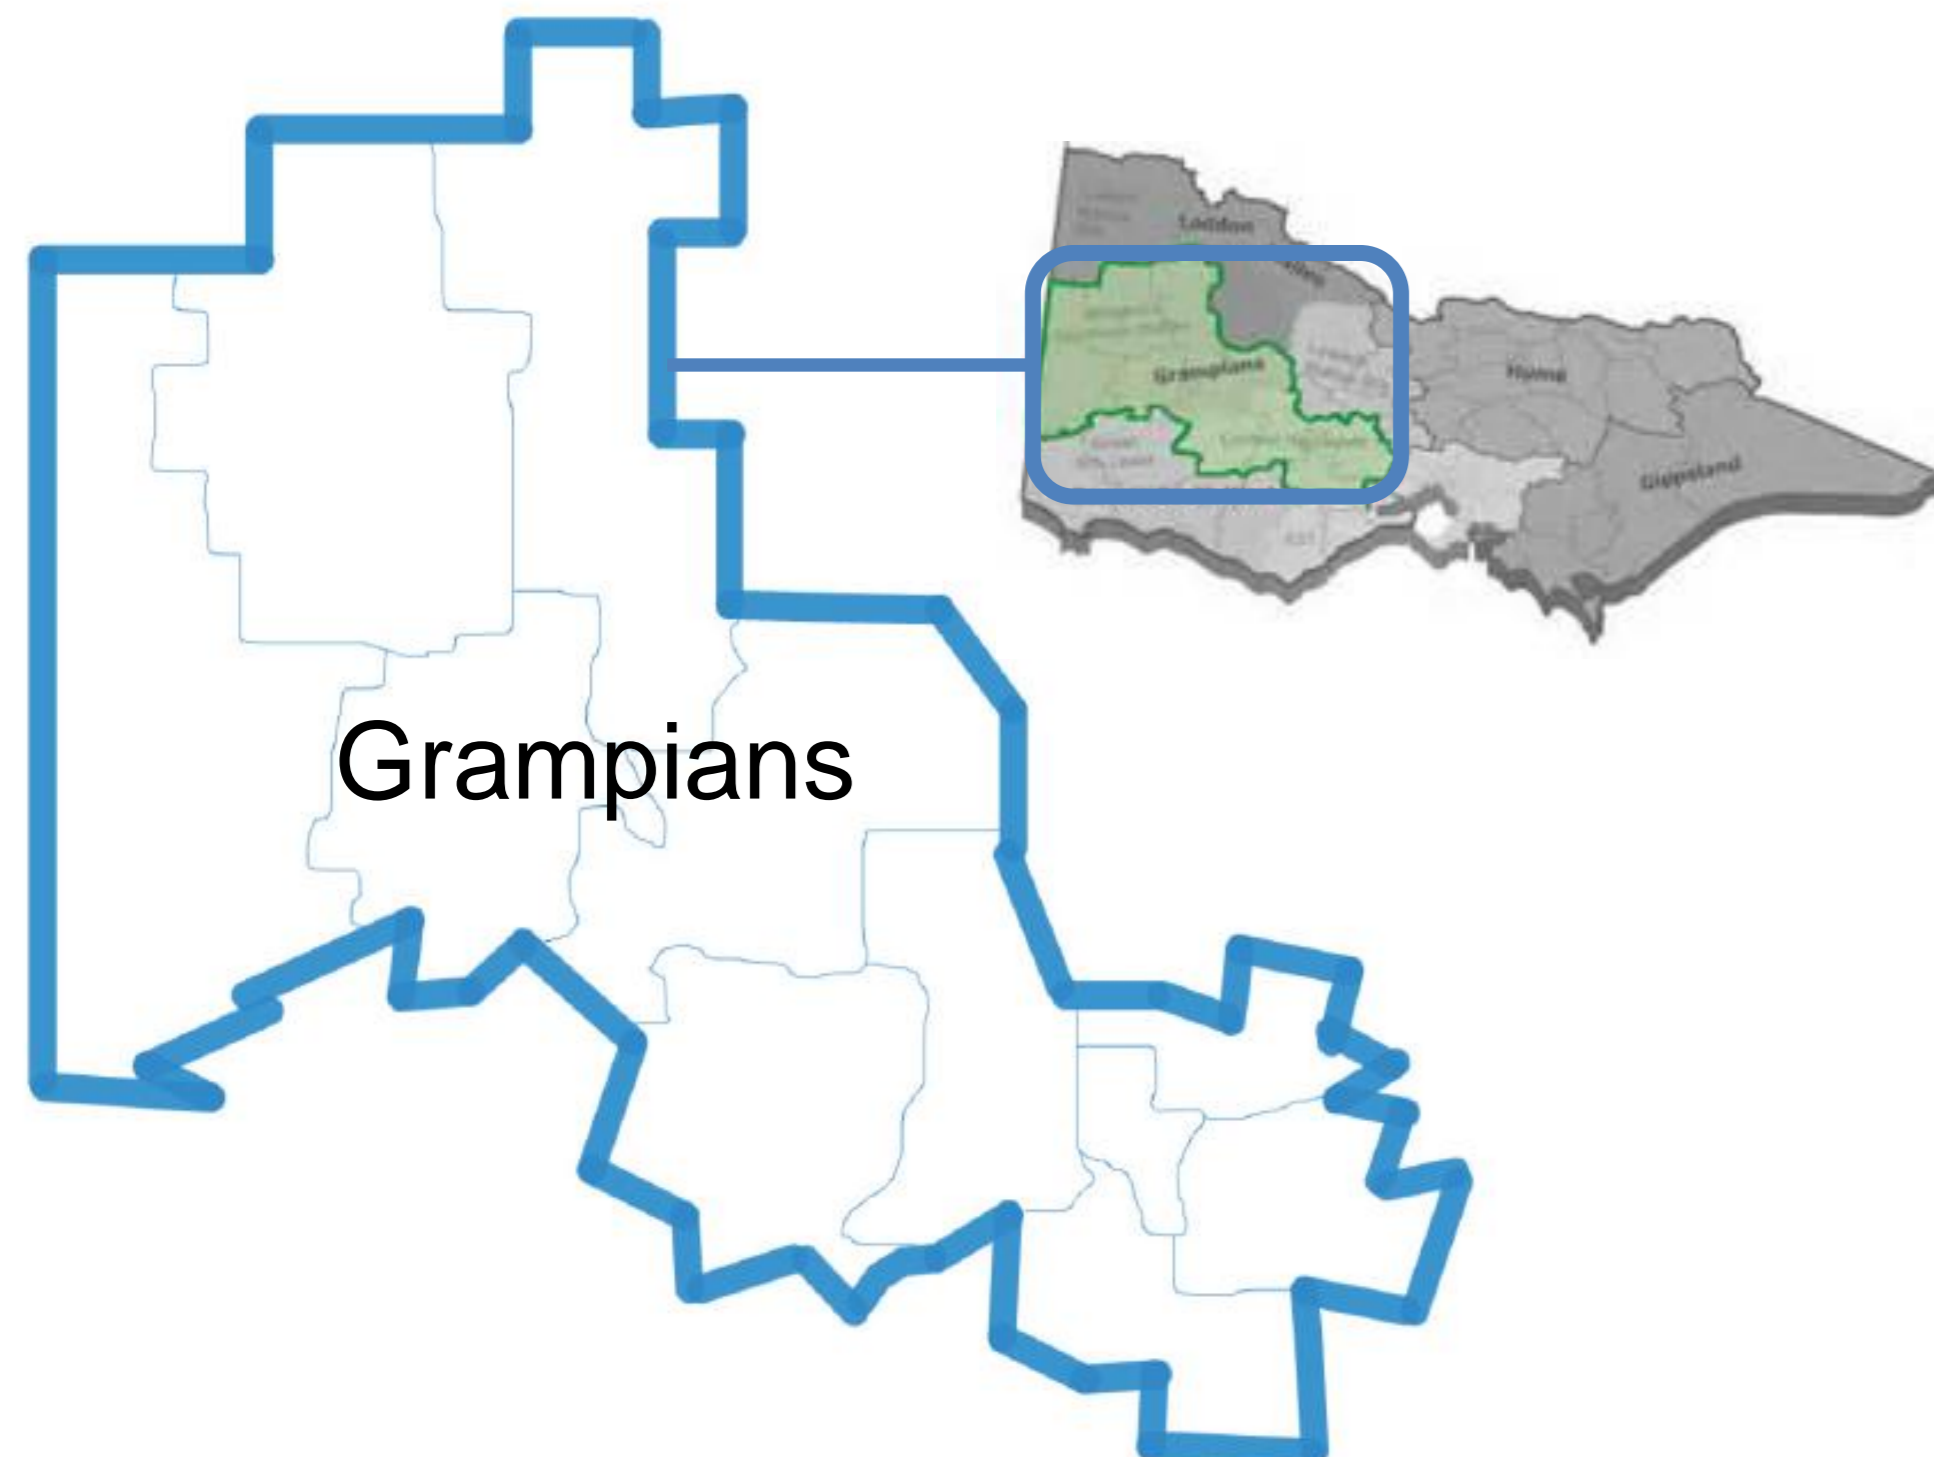

During Active Treatment

At End of Treatment

Trialling ASCO End of Treatment and Survivorship Care Plan

Prototype templates developed and tested with GICS committees

Grampians Integrated Cancer Service acknowledges the support of the Victorian Government

Lea Marshall
Cancer Services Improvement Coordinator
Grampians Integrated Cancer Service leam@bhs.org.au Ph: 0434 658 519